Mrs. James told her stary of finding Mrs. Bouthard ready to leave within 13 minotes after the death of Meyer. According to Mrs. James, this accused woman declared if they found "anything in Eds stomach they would into this her." Doctor Harms was the last witnesse for the state to tell of having found arsente in the speciment taken from the body; of Meyer. Harms is state chemist of Utah. Cross-examination and direct examination this morning revealed that not only did he find arsente in all the specimens but that in his own mind satisfied himself that death had resulted from the design of the polson. He scouled the idea that there may have teen promaine positively there were no show or promaine alkaloids. He dissipated the defense's theory of possible arsente polico from the show or promaine alkaloids. He dissipated the defense's theory of possible arsente polico from the sex promaine states the examination of the minimum to the policon, the witnesse said would have left unmissioned from the condition since he was indured by the carry in possible arsenter of lead. Typhoid fever after remains of the three lines of defense upon which defense has been relying. Where is growing indication that this theory will not be pursued.

"It is not up to us to prove how Meyer died. We may not be able to tell," raid W. P. Guthrie, chief counsel for the defense, when asked the course to be pursued relative to the cause of death.

Frank Magil, automobile dealer, testified he raid sold Mrs. Meyer a large car. She had promised to pay for it by September 10, he said. She said to him that she would have $10,000 from an estate in Montana at that time. Meyer died September 7. No evidence has been found that the woman had any estate in Montana or any other.
